Call for Vocational Training Maskmakers Assistants

December 9 to 15, 2019:

Intensive 7 days full-immersion course

at the Porto Arlecchino Laboratory
Via Meduna, 61 - Pordenone (PN) Italy

This is a vocational training initiative that aims to safeguard some ancient crafts for entertainment, which are "endangered", but which represent the excellence of craftsmanship in the history of Italian theater.

This call is intended to contribute to the specific revaluation of the figure of the "Maskmaker", manufacturer of professional masks tailored for the actors of Commedia dell'Arte and other forms of Italian popular theater which became famous throughout the world from the sixteenth century.

To facilitate the advanced training of mask-makers, the Porto Arlecchino workshop opens its doors to students who have already attended the specific Craft Ateliers in the last six years (starting in 2012) and who want to deepen their manual skills and knowledge of the manufacturing materials. The selected artists will have the opportunity to practice the different techniques of papier-mâché, matrices wood carving, leather modelling of Neutral masks and of Commedia dell'Arte masks, by training themselves on projects, matrices and professional casts from the collection of Porto Arlecchino and with the assistance of specialized Masters. Attendance at the laboratory is free.

The artifacts will remain in the property of Porto Arlecchino and will be supervised by the Teaching Commission in order to award a personalized Diploma, with evaluations on the results of each participant.

The initiative is made possible thanks to the collaboration between organizers, partners and patronage:
